The building tilted Thursday night with a noise that awoke the police reserves. Magistrate O'Neill notified the Building Department when he went to open court Saturday.

Public Service Institute Issues

Statement.

A false impression of the amount strike or lockout was called on November 14 will be injected into the case. This will involve several million dollars, it is estimated, and will be the reverse of the famous Danbury hatters' case, in which the employers sued the union for damages caused by the latter having broken their contract.

"Then a motion will be made," said Mr. Hillquit, "to amend the present complaint of the union so as to enable the court to appoint a referee to assess the damages suffered by the individual workers."

The contract, made on May 29, 1912, provided for operation of shops in the garment trade upon a weekly wage basis and a forty-four hour week until June 1, 1922. The attempt of the employers to establish the piecework system and forty-nine hour week on November 14 resulted in the present controversy.

Suggestions Sought. Washington, Dec. 4.—Taxpayers are to help the Treasury frame regulations under the row revenue act, internal revenue officials said to-night.

Suggestions for simplified regulations governing various forms of taxes under the new law, officials said, have been called for from the different basic industries, such as oil, coal, manufacturing and banks and financial institutions. These suggestions, it was explained, are to be received both in writing and sold lots and plots on their East Flat-
